

VISION

Climate change interventions are integrated into development and governance processes, and addressed locally through public and private investments enhancing sustainable livelihoods of selected target groups in Mozambique, Kenya and Tanzania.

Reform processes around decentralisation continues unabated and entrepreneurs wish to engage with high-risk markets

Authorities are by advocacy activities constantly kept in the loop, nursed and involved in the development of the programme

Livelihood and resilience of target groups are improved due to programme influence and indirectly through network and advocacy work based on evidence and findings from the work in the programme

The combined speed of negative climate changes and population growths is not outbalancing the gains made in terms of identifying and upscaling livelihood interventions

Attitudes of the authorities have changed at all levels as communities increasingly are involved in implementing climate adaptation and mitigation interventions through community led projects

PCP is capable of inspiring consortiums to communicate and advocate effectively towards local and central authorities

Partners are delivering relevant and timely support to the programmes and the target groups. SE deliver timely and relevant enablers to partners to organise programmatic work

Communities establish strong community networks advocating for their rights to be involved in governance processes.

Monitoring systems are in place and used to capture and analyse change

Practical work for upscaling in the programme's settings are carried out by consortium partners leading to community resilience and ability to manage own development initiatives. Collaboration with authorities and Private Sector supports the climate change adaptation.

SE deliver timely and relevant enablers to partners in the establishment of consortiums. Partners respond to the support and value the idea of working in consortiums

CSO partners with complementing competences are organised in programme consortiums to leverage common agendas

SE has working experiences with the in-country CSO environment and has a network of contacts at duty bearer and right holders levels

Key:

Preconditions: Conditions that must be in place to reach the VISION. One condition leads to the next. IF this is in place THEN etc.

Assumptions:

Something that is accepted as true or likely to happen but there is no proof (yet). Assumptions underpin our understanding of how change works and why the chosen programmatic priorities functions better than others. Explicit assumptions help identify gaps and unmet needs.
